

Women's Rights and Sex Self-ID Checklist

What is the impact of allowing males to become 'legally female' with an administrative process?

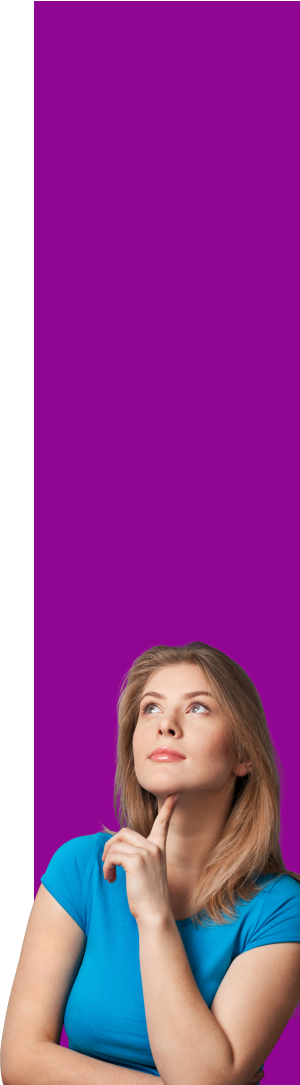

1. Do I have the right to go into a female change room at the pool and not see a penis?
2. Do I have the right to go into a female changing room and not have a man watch me change?
3. Does a 6 year old girl have the right to stay in a female-only change room at the pool and not see a penis?
4. Does a 13 year old girl have the right to go into a female toilet a school without boys watching her wash her hands of menstrual blood?
5. Does my elderly mum have the right to stay in a female-only hospital ward without a man masturbating in the bed next to her?
6. Does my mum have the right to request female only care in her home or hospital, and have that request respected?
7. If I am arrested, do I have the right to be intimately searched by a female officer?
8. Do I have the right to say no to a man in my showers or cell in prison?
9. Do I have the right to go to a rape crisis centre and not see a man?
10. Do I have the right to pursue a same-sex lesbian relationship by attending lesbian only events and subscribing to lesbian-only dating apps?

Who are we?

Women's Rights Network Australia are a national organisation of everyday Australian women.

We come from all walks of life.

We advocate for the sex-based rights of women and girls.

Our goals

- We oppose laws that replace sex with gender identity
- We support ending male violence against women
- We oppose the medicalisation of gender confusion in children
- We support female-only spaces
- We advocate for the "women's category" in all sports to exclude males
- We support the rights of lesbians to associate in lesbian-only spaces without the presence of men
- We support freedom of opinion, free expression, peaceful assembly, political participation and freedom of association
